

Extrusion

The aluminum LED profile protects led strips from being damaged or broken. The anodized finish provides strong protection to the aluminum against rust, moisture and corrosion. The Aluminum strip profile also provides better heat sinking for LED strips, enable the LED strips to run at lower temperature and last longer. The profile is suitable for using both indoor and outdoor.

